

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Described is a pet door for providing ingress or egress, for a pet, through a structural member, such as a wall or door. The pet door also offers a weather-resisting feature that prevents the integration of the exterior environment and the interior environment. Because the weather-resisting feature includes a flap that presents potential to entangle a pet, the pet door provides a snap fastener oriented release mechanism for the potentially injurious flap.